Charlottestreet

Established in 2003 with funding from the province's Craft Council, Charlottestreet is independently owned and operated by St. John's artist Charlotte Reid.

Reid, a graduate of the Costume Studies program at Dalhousie University, has worked in costume on a number of film productions, including Random Passage and Wise Girls.

Now, under her Charlottestreet label, Reid creates and sells "wearable art" – vintage-inspired apparel and accessories created from new and recycled fabrics.

Charlottestreet recently moved out of its Duckworth Street studio into a new space at 20 Barnes Road. For more information, call 709-753-8878.
